

SANTA BARBARA

HOT SIPS

There's a new, autumn-appropriate way to toast the bride and groom. Couples who book their big day at Santa Barbara's Canary hotel can host an after-hours Hot Apple Cider Bar inside the venue's Finch & Fork restaurant. Available from 11PM to 2AM, the spread comes with hot apple cider, whipped cream, dried apple rings, cinnamon sticks, mulling spice bags and beignets, plus the Rock and Rye cocktail—a whiskey libation sweetened with rock candy sugar, citrus and spices. $25 per person for two hours, weddings from $120 per person, 31 W. Carrillo St., Santa Barbara, 805.879.9100, finchandforkrestaurant.com —AR

SUGAR & SPICE
Post-party, Santa Barbara's Canary hotel will set up a boozy Hot Apple Cider Bar with all the fixings, including dried apple rings, cinnamon sticks, whipped cream and—bonus—beignets.

EN PLEIN AIR
The Arbor, The Carneros Inn's brand new outdoor wedding space

NAPA

GREEN ACRES

One of Napa's most charming destinations, The Carneros Inn, a Plumpjack Resort, has just unveiled myriad renovations. The multiphase program, totaling over $6.5 million, exemplifies the 27-acre resort's efforts to stay fresh for their loyal fans. Guests are greeted by a new portecochère and a reception space designed by Napa-based Shopworks. The entrance continues the inn's country styling with white board-and-batten walls, limestone floors, and modern orange and white furniture (orange is the inn's signature color). The resort's main outdoor wedding space, The Arbor, features trellises, a wow-worthy water feature and lavish landscaping with heel-friendly turf. A new family pool with an elevated deck and luxury loungers offers plenty of relaxation space, as does the second pool, Hilltop, which boasts eight new cabanas. This year also sees the first half of the inn's 86 cottages and 10 suites refurbished with high-tech amenities and a soft neutral palette. Wedding packages from $5,000, rooms from $385 per night, 4048 Sonoma Highway, Napa, 707.299.4900, thecarnerosinn.com —Maile Pingel

ALL CALIFORNIA

In the Mix

Gone are the days when men's style took a back seat on the big day. Now, fashion-forward couples across the wedding spectrum are equally enthralled with elegant details. For many, a straightforward wedding band lacks a certain luster. These days, the occasion calls for top jewelers to circle back to the drawing board to create statement rings in mixed metals that wearers will vow to love and cherish. Here are rings with added curve appeal. —Sarah Ryan

RING TRUE Clockwise from top left: Masculins 71-29270-0-0 band in platinum, red gold and carbon fiber, $2,160, by Furrer Jacot at Padis Jewelry, San Francisco; Dejaun Jewelers, Sherman Oaks, and Tradicional Jewelers, Newport Beach; LG140 men's band in hammered platinum and 18K rose gold, from $2,970, by Simon G. at Robbins Brothers, Woodland Hills, and Padis Jewelry, San Francisco; band in platinum, yellow gold and white gold, $1,985, by Christian Bauer at Sarah Leonard Fine Jewelers, L.A., and Amir H. Mozaffarian Fine Jewels, San Francisco; Lucida band ring in 18K gold with platinum, $2,175, at Tiffany & Co., Beverly Hills; Streamline narrow band ring with diamonds and rose gold, $3,000, at David Yurman, Beverly Hills.